Dan Gill : Louisiana Gardener's Guide - Revised Edition before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Louisiana Gardener's Guide - Revised Edition:

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. and successful techniques for a beautiful garden spot By Paul Bray Dan, a local LSU treasure, knows the issues, problems, and successful techniques for a beautiful garden spot. Dan is easy to understand, practical, and fun to read and follow. 3 of 3 people found the following review helpful. Essential reference material By Tommy Z This edition is an improvement on Dan Gill's classic gardening book. The photographs make for easy browsing and provide ready identification of plants. This is not really a how-to book; rather, it is an essential reference book about the plants that grow best in Louisiana. Well-organized and informative, I find this book extremely helpful. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. love it. By Dayner Promptly delivered, well written, well illustrated. It is truly applicable to Louisiana, love it.

Gardening is now the favorite leisure pastime in America. Homeowners are realizing the health benefits derived from gardening and the increase in their home's property value. This book contains easy-to-use advice on the top landscape plant choices. It also recommends specific varieties, and provides advice on how to plant, how to grow and how to care for the best plants.

About the Author Dan Gill, an author, professor and broadcaster, earned his M.S. in horticulture and worked as an LSU Agriculture Center/Extension Service horticulturist for more than 20 years. In 2001, Gill accepted a new state position in Baton Rouge as Associate Professor of Consumer Horticulture and currently writes a weekly column for the Times-Picayune and a monthly column for Louisiana Gardener magazine. In addition, Gill appears weekly on WWL-TV, hosts the Saturday morning WSMB Garden Show, and serves as spokesperson for the LSU Agricultural Center's "Get It Growing" project. Joe White served as area agent in horticulture production and marketing for the LSU Agricultural Center/Extension Service for almost 29 years. With an M.S. in Horticulture and a Doctor of Philosophy in Horticulture, White previously wrote for Louisiana Gardener magazine, provided hundreds on horticultural broadcasts on KCBL and KNCB and has been a regular columnist for The Shreveport Times for 30 years. White was also one of the founders of and occasionally appears on "Successful Gardening," a master gardener educational program on Times Warner cable. White is a charter member of the Louisiana Horticulture Society and he and Dan Gill were the recipients of a Professional Achievement Award in 2001 from the Louisiana Nursery and Landscape Association.
